

This week we finish 2 Corinthians and start Galatians!

Hey reading community,

Last week we read about how Paul confronted difficulties in the church in Corinth. After following up with a painful visit to the church, Paul wrote a letter to assure them that they were loved and forgiven. This is the letter of 2 Corinthians.

This letter challenges believers to see life through the paradox of the cross. Because of the cross and the Holy Spirit, Jesus' followers receive power to live transformed lives. They are made new by the power that raised Jesus, and they can draw on God's grace and strength to live differently as members of God's eternal family.

BibleProject

P.S. What does it mean to follow the model of Jesus' death in our own lives? Read more in this week's blog post, Second Corinthians: Paradox of the Cross.

Day 1: Read 2 Corinthians 1-2, Psalm 149. Watch 2 Corinthians.

Day 2: Read 2 Corinthians 3-4, Psalm 150.

Day 3: Read 2 Corinthians 5-6, Psalm 1.

Day 4: Read 2 Corinthians 7-8, Psalm 2. Watch Generosity.

Day 5: Read 2 Corinthians 9-10, Psalm 3.

Day 6: Read 2 Corinthians 11-13, Psalm 4.

Day 7: Read Galatians 1-2, Psalm 5. Watch Galatians.